Continuing Education Blackboard Login Instructions

To access the blackboard component of your new Continuing Education course, open the email you received from ceinfo@cocc.edu. This letter includes the web address where you can access your online course materials as well as your username and password for Blackboard.

Sample Message

We have created you a blackboard user with the following credentials:
 kristineroshaw@gmail.com
dThankZ

Use the following link to access your blackboard resource: https://cocestage.blackboard.com/

You must use the link in the email to access your course, or the link on the Continuing Education page.

https://bb.cocc.edu/webapps/login/?action=default_login

We also recommend using a Private Browsing Window or Incognito Mode to prevent being redirected to the credit student login page. The login page will say Blackboard Learn. If you see the COCC logo – back up and try with a private browser!
Your username will be the email address used to register for the course with continuing education, and your password will be a randomly generated series of letters, numbers, and characters.

Once logged in, you will see the Blackboard homepage. On the right will be a box titled “MyCourses.” This contains the link to your online course space.

On the left is a box titled “Tools” where you may choose to change your random password for one of your choosing. To change your password, click the link for “Personal Information” and click the link for “Change Password.”
