Coordinating your Testing Accommodations

Please note: When coordinating your testing accommodations, you will need to complete the following logistics to ensure you receive your testing accommodations. Plan on:

1. Talking/Confirming this plan with your instructor
2. Checking your online account
3. Scheduling your exam

1. Confirm your accommodated testing plan with the instructor so you and your instructor are aware of how you will receive your testing accommodations (this is step #3 back on your log in page as you should be confirming the plan with your instructor for ALL of your accommodations). Do they know you are scheduling your accommodated exam with the testing center? Did they fill out the testing instructions from your letter of accommodations?

2. Log in- Check your account to confirm your instructor has filled out the testing instructions for the assessments for the class (these instructions are the proctoring rules for ALL students) by logging in, and selecting ‘alternative testing’ under the My Accommodations section on the left hand side:

   Requesting Your Accommodations

   1. Preview directions: visual guide (pdf) or video tutorial (OSU).

   After reviewing the steps below, you may log in:

   ![Log In Button]
3. Select the class – First select the class you wish to schedule your exam for, suing the drop down menu if you are registered for multiple classes.

4. View the testing instructions – Select ‘view testing instructions’ Only classes with completed instructions will be available as an option. If you do not see the course you need, then you need to notify the instructor to fill out the testing instructions located on your letter of accommodations (below). You can also contact Disability Services if you need assistance with reminding your instructor. Review the testing instructions, including the time allotted for ALL students, as you will want to make sure this information is correct BEFORE you schedule your exam. The system will automatically apply any extended time accommodations so the original time entered from the instructor must be correct.
5. Schedule your exam. If your testing instructions are correct, back at the top select ‘schedule an exam’.

Check availability as exams need to be scheduled in advanced. This shows you each type of exam (quiz, exam, midterm, final) and how many days in advance they need to be scheduled).
The exam availability schedule opened a separate tab, so click back ion the tab on the top of your screen titled ‘exam request:

- Request Type (Quiz, Exam, Midterm, Final)
- Date you are wanting to schedule the exam (click on the calendar icon)
- Time you want to schedule the exam
- Individual accommodations you want to apply to this exam
- Any additional comment you want both the Testing Center and Instructor to know of
- Select “Add Exam Request”
6. Check the status:

If you have not requested an exam by the needed advanced notice, you will be notified that you are making a ‘late exam request’. You can select a reason for this late request, or specify in the comment additional reasons, and still submit your request. Otherwise, you can select ‘back to exam detail or modify date’ to request a different date/time.
When your exam request is successfully submitted, you will see the green checkmark. Please note: This does not mean your exam request has been accepted, only that it was submitted for approval. You will receive a separate email notification once approved by the Testing Center.

You can review the status of all of your exam requests by going back to your ‘alternative testing’ tab on the left ad scroll to ‘upcoming exam requests’ and in the status section (approved, processing, etc.). Only when the status says ‘approved’ is when have been approved for that testing appointment and can go to the testing center for that scheduled appointment. You can also select ‘modify’ or ‘cancel’ to change the status of any of your requests and ‘view other exams for all requests you have previously made for that class:
7. Receive confirmation - You will be notified in your COCC email the notification that is sent to your instructor with your request details, which also notifies the instructor to contact Disability Services for any concerns or questions.
