It is the policy of the Central Oregon Community College Board of Directors that there will be no discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, disability, gender, marital status, national origin, color, race, religion, sexual orientation or veteran status in any educational programs, activities or employment. Persons having questions about equal opportunity and nondiscrimination should contact the Equal Employment Officer, c/o COCC's Human Resources office, (541) 383-7216.

Faculty, staff and students are protected from discrimination and harassment under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Persons who, because of a physical or learning disability, need special accommodation should contact ADA Coordinator Gene Zinkgraf, (541) 383-7776, in advance of their need for accommodation. Further inquiries may be directed to the Affirmative Action Officer, c/o COCC's Human Resources office, (541) 383-7216.

Those wishing to attend events at COCC who have special needs resulting from a physical disability should contact Gene Zinkgraf, 504/ADA coordinator, at least three days in advance of the event. He can be reached at 383-7775, or through the College's TT number, 383-7708.

Introduction

Central Oregon Community College, the oldest two-year college in Oregon, provides comprehensive college services to the residents of its 10,000-square-mile district.

COCC offers two-year associate degrees, transfer/lower division programs, professional technical degrees and certificates, developmental courses, continuing and community education classes, industry-specific training programs and business management assistance. Courses are delivered through the traditional classroom setting or online.

The College's main campus is located on the western edge of Bend, a city known for its natural beauty and its proximity to diverse recreational opportunities. Situated on the western slope of Awbrey Butte, the location affords spectacular views of the mountains from nearly every point on the 201-acre campus. The Redmond Campus, a satellite located 20 miles north on 25 acres near the Redmond Municipal Airport, offers a variety of college courses and programs and is the home of the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. In addition, COCC offers some courses and programs in other Central Oregon communities.

A branch of Oregon State University is located on the Bend campus in the 38,000-square-foot Cascades Hall that opened in fall 2002. Oregon State University and University of Oregon collaborate to offer more than 350 upper division, on-site courses in 26 different undergraduate degree options.

Board Members

A seven-member board of directors governs the College, with members of that board elected from geographic zones in its 10,000-square-mile District.

Board Mission, Vision & Goals

Mission

Central Oregon Community College will be a leader in regionally and globally responsive adult, lifelong, postsecondary education for Central Oregon.

Vision Statement

Because of COCC, Central Oregonians will...

- be a districtwide community that holds and promotes lifelong postsecondary education and ongoing professional growth and personal development for adults as values;
- be able to connect actively with other communities, the state, the nation and the world in order to attain both locally strong and globally responsible perspectives;
- view education as integral to a sense of well-being, security and responsibility; and
- look to COCC to lead the region in the achievement of these ends.

Ends Statements/Goals

Because of COCC, the community will...

- have an adult population with the proficiencies and learning skills necessary for lifelong employment at or above a family-wage level;
- have an adult population with academic achievements and learning skills necessary to successfully pursue education at and beyond the community college level;
- work collaboratively to achieve shared purposes;
- have wide-ranging opportunities to enhance learning, wellness, quality of life, and cultural appreciation;
- support diversity; and interact effectively with state, regional, national and global communities.

COCC President

Dr. James E. Middleton

Dr. James E. Middleton

Dr. James E. Middleton is in his third year as president of Central Oregon Community College. He assumed the position in July 2004 and is only the fourth president in College's nearly 60-year history.

Since coming to COCC, he has led the College during a time of diminishing state resources, yet growing demand within the District. He has encouraged the College faculty and staff to make innovations in instruction and throughout the campus. He has been working to forge new partnerships to strengthen the educational systems in the region. This has included being a founding member of the Central Oregon Regional Education Team (CORRECT), and serving as its first chair.

Middleton served as president of the College of Marin from 1993 to 2003. After leaving Marin, he was a visiting scholar at the Community College Leadership Development Initiatives at Claremont Graduate University in California. Prior to moving to Marin, he spent 11 years at Pennsylvania College of Technology in Williamsport (formally Williamsport Area Community College), first as the director of Integrated Studies for two years and then the dean and vice president of academic affairs for nine years.

COCC History

- 1949 COCC opens with four part-time faculty members conducting classes for 109 students during the evenings in the basement of Bend High School.
- 1954 On the fifth anniversary, the students recommend changing the name to Central Oregon College.
- 1955 College Foundation is formed.
- 1957 Don Pence is appointed College's first president.
- 1962 Central Oregonians approve the 10,000-square-mile college district and later elect first district board.
- 1962 The R.L. Coats family donates 140 acres on the west side of Awbrey Butte for the campus.
- 1964 Nearly 700 students and 35 full-time faculty members begin classes at the new campus.
- 1966 COCC is accredited and a new 16,000-square-foot library opens.
- 1967 After Dr. Pence resigns, Dr. Frederick Boyle is named president. The college becomes Central Oregon Community College.
- 1971 Ponderosa Hall, a vocational-technical center, and Mazama Gymnasium open.
- 1982 The Pinckney Center for the Arts, named for instructor and administrator, Orde Pinckney, is formally dedicated.
- 1984 The Small Business Development Center opens.

- 1990 The Central Oregon Consortium for Higher Education (COCHE) begins offering selected four-year degrees through Oregon colleges and universities on the COCC campus.
- 1990 After Dr. Boyle retires, Dr. Robert Barber is selected as the third president in the College's history
- 1994 The University Center opens, replacing COCHE.
- 1997 Redmond Campus opens.
- 1998 New 72,500-square-foot library opens. Original library converted to classrooms.
- 2001 The State Board of Higher Education selects Oregon State University to serve as the managing partner of the state's first branch campus.
Manufacturing and Technology Center at the Redmond Campus opens.
OSU-Cascades Campus opens in the fall.
- 2002 Cascades Hall, housing offices and classrooms of OSU-Cascades Campus, opens.
- 2003 Budget cuts totalling $3 million (a result of a downturn in the economy and a 15 percent cut in the state's community college budget) forced COCC to eliminate 35 positions, cut back several instructional and other programs, cut class offerings, close college centers and raise tuition 25 percent over two years.
- 2004 Dr. James Middleton becomes the fourth president in the College's history.

Tuition and Fees (2006-07)

Tuition and fees for credit courses:

- $25 one-time application fee

Facilities

The 201-acre main campus in Bend includes 21 buildings, incorporating 414,000 square feet. The 25-acre Redmond Campus encompasses three buildings, incorporating 51,500 square feet, including the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. The 38,000-square-foot Cascades Hall on the Bend campus opened in fall 2002. Most college facilities are available for rent: 383-7775.

Computer Labs are available to students and district residents.

- 40-station lab in the Library (open to the community)
- 31-station lab in Pioneer Hall
- 20-station lab in Cascade Hall
- Computer/Study Rooms are also available in Redmond, Madras, La Pine and Prineville

Student Housing

Juniper Hall, COCC's on-campus residence hall, houses 103 students. It is operated by the nonprofit housing management firm, College Housing Northwest. The 2006-07 room and board package for double occupancy is $6,798.

During the summer, Juniper Hall is rented to groups and conferences. Call 383-7593 for more information.

Programs of Study

COCC offers certificates of completion and four associate degrees: Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science and Associate of General Studies.

Certificates of completion, which require one to four quarters to complete, prepare students for immediate employment or advancement in various fields. Certificate programs include

- Addictions Studies
- Automotive
- Computer and Information Systems
- Culinary
- Dental Assisting
- Dietary Managers
- Drafting
- Forestry
- Geographic Information Systems
- HIT – Electronic Billing
- Juvenile Corrections
- Manufacturing
- Massage Therapy
- Medical Assisting
- Medical Transcription
- Nursing
- Office Assistant
- Retail Management
- Wildland Fire

The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree trains students in applied professional technical skills that prepare the graduate for immediate employment in the field. AAS degree programs include

- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Management
- Aviation
- Business Administration (includes emphasis in five different areas)

Programs of Study, continued

- Computer Information Systems (includes emphasis in three different areas)
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary
- Early Childhood Education
- Emergency Medical Services
- Forestry
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Manufacturing Technology
- Massage Therapy
- Nursing
- Structural Fire Science
- Wildland Fire

Associate of Arts (AA) degree programs fit the needs of most students who intend to transfer. The AA degree meets AAOT (Associate of Arts, Oregon Transfer) lower-division general education requirements for all public Oregon universities and some private colleges. AA programs cover subject areas from anthropology to speech, and pre-majors such as pre-medicine, pre-dentistry and pre-veterinary.

The Associate of Science (AS) degree is individualized for transfer to a designated Oregon public university for a specified major, such as business, science, engineering or technology.

The Associate of General Studies (AGS) degree provides an alternative to pursue a broad, general education and accomplish personal educational goals. It is not transferable as a whole, and does not meet certification requirements for any professional technical area.

High School Options

Central Oregon high school students can earn college credit by participating in any of these COCC programs:

Concurrent Enrollment

Take up to 11 credits through the concurrent enrollment program. Register for classes on the Bend or Redmond campus. In some cases, area high schools have contracted to have COCC transfer courses taught to their students. To register for classes on the COCC campus, follow the “Getting Started” steps; contact your high school counselor about registering for courses taught in your high school.

College Now/Transfer and College Now/Tech Prep

Some Central Oregon high schools offer college-level general education and professional technical classes in the high schools, taught by high school instructors exclusively for high school students. Tuition rates are $15/credit for transfer courses and $20/class for Tech Prep courses. Contact your high school counselor for information on course options in your high school.

Expanded Options

High school students have the opportunity to take credit classes at COCC with no charge to them for tuition, fees, supplies and books (transportation to & from COCC not included). Students must sign up no later than March 1 to take advantage of this option for the following school year. Check with high school counselor or ASPIRE coordinator for more information on eligibility requirements.

Middle School Students

Middle school students may take classes at COCC. However, students must meet with the Director of Admissions/Registrar and meet various admission requirements. Contact the COCC Admissions & Records Office, 383-7500, for details.

The CAP Center

Career services, Academic advising and Personal counseling

Located in the Library lower level, the CAP Center provides services to any enrolled COCC student to help them make the most of their time at COCC, and to prepare graduates for family-wage employment.

Career/Job Placement services

- free career-planning workshops
- credit course in career planning
- Web-based, self-directed career exploration tools
- library of books and materials with career-related and job placement information
- computer resources (such as a resumé writer)
- electronic career placement and temporary jobs bulletin board

Academic advising

Services at COCC are provided by both CAP Center advisers and faculty advisers. New, degree-seeking students are assigned an academic adviser during their first term at COCC and meet regularly with their adviser to work on their educational plan, degree requirements, schedule planning, problem solving, as well as graduation, transfer and career preparation.

Personal counseling

Counseling assists students who are faced with personal issues that impact their college performance. Services are provided by professional, licensed counselors in a confidential setting at no cost to enrolled students.

Phone: 383-7200

Articulation Agreements

As students move between various institutions, COCC has recognized the need to provide smoother transfer options for advanced degrees. As a result, the College is developing transfer agreements with several universities for specific majors and degrees.

Continuing Education

COMMUNITY, BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

Central Oregon Community College's Continuing Education division provides skill-specific, noncredit programs and services throughout the district. With a composite of services, COCC is able to efficiently offer expanded opportunities for noncredit instruction appropriate to businesses, professionals and individuals.

Business Development Center

COCC's Business Development Center (BDC) supports business vitality through one-on-one business counseling, a yearlong Small Business Management program and practical, hands-on workshops. The BDC continues to exceed goals in providing these business support services throughout the College District. Last year, the BDC assisted 420 people with more than 1,300 hours of counseling. For information, call 383-7290.

Business and Employee Development

Central Oregon Community College creates, coordinates and delivers quality employee development programs to public and private sector businesses. Our training is high quality, cost effective and results oriented. And, best of all, it's customized to meet your specific business needs.

Special interest classes for adults including Arts & Crafts, Fitness & Health, Home & Garden, Computer Skills and much more!

Adult Basic Education/College Preparation

Through the Adult Basic Education program, instruction in GED preparation, high school completion and basic skills such as reading, writing, math and spelling is available in Bend, Redmond, Prineville, Madras, Warm Springs, and La Pine. English Language Learning is offered in many sites as well as preparation for the United States citizenship exam. Through the ABE program, 54 students obtained their GED, 13 students earned their high school diplomas and 696 students attended English language learning classes last year. A total of 763 students were served. The ABE/CP district office is located at the Redmond Campus. For information, call 504-2950.

For information about Continuing Education at COCC, call 383-7270 or access the Web site at www.cocc.edu.

Redmond Campus

Residents of Redmond and the other communities in the northern part of the COCC District have access to a full range of adult educational opportunities at the Redmond Campus, across from the Redmond Airport:

- credit classes designed to provide general education requirements leading to an Associate of Arts transfer degree
- classes leading to an Associate of Applied Science in business administration
- academic advising, placement testing and financial aid advising
- GED, basic skills and English Language Learning classes
- family literacy program for parents and young children
- employment and computer skills
- business and professional training
- hands-on training in specialized degrees
- opportunities for high school students to earn college credit
- online “Education to Go” classes for a variety of business topics
- a variety of noncredit self-enrichment classes

At COCC’s Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center (MATC), students can learn technical skills at their own pace and on their own schedule, all with the help of the skilled and experienced staff.

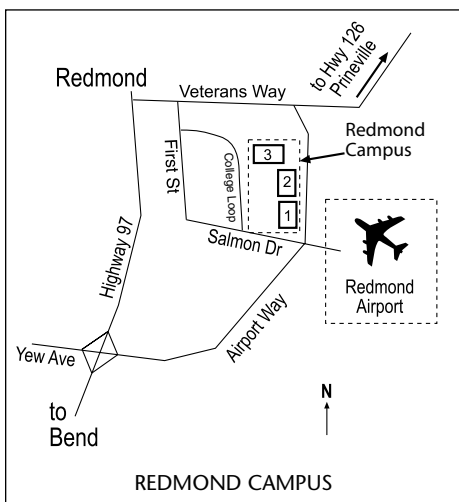

This multi-industry training facility offers classroom instruction as well as hands-on experience with manufacturing technology, advanced

Library

The holdings:

- More than 65,447 book titles in the online catalog, searchable via <http://campuslibrary.cocc.edu/>. We have a growing number of electronic books available through the catalog. We are also a federal depository library.
- 325 periodical titles and 16 national newspapers, and good collection of VHS/DVD resources.
- First community college to become a member of Orbis Cascade Alliance, a consortium of 33 Oregon and Washington academic libraries, with a combined database of more than 23 million items. Students can request materials from any member library for delivery to COCC, which takes about two business days. The consortium's catalog, Summit, is available through the COCC Library's Web site or directly at <http://orbis.uoregon.edu/>.
- Interlibrary loan is available to borrow items not held at COCC or not available through the Summit catalog.
- Some documents are available through electronic document delivery.
- The Library subscribes to nearly 50 high-quality, scholarly databases and electronic resources in support of the curriculum. Many of the databases have extensive full text available right online. Most are available to students and faculty from home computers.
- The Library houses a video collection on the main floor and is also a selective depository for federal documents.
- The Library Rotunda Gallery features a growing number of art exhibits.
- The Library developed and hosts the Library Scholar in Residence program.

COCC Foundation

The COCC Foundation is a separate, nonprofit corporation organized in 1955 to assist the College and its students through the development of private resources.

The Foundation provides this assistance by managing a variety of funding vehicles:

- Named endowed scholarships established in memory or honor of donor
- Planned giving through the Heritage Society
- Raising funds through private and public partnerships

The 2006-07 COCC Foundation Scholarship Program provided more than 200 students financial assistance totaling $486,000. A full scholarship for last year was $2,500.

COCC Club Sports provide opportunities for intercollegiate and interclub competition, skill development, leadership and recreation. Clubs are organized by students with guidance from coaches. Students, faculty, staff and alumni may join existing clubs or form new ones. Current clubs include:

- Baseball
- Basketball
- Cycling
- Disc Golf
- Golf
- Indoor Soccer
- Lacrosse
- Running
- Soccer
- Tennis
- Volleyball

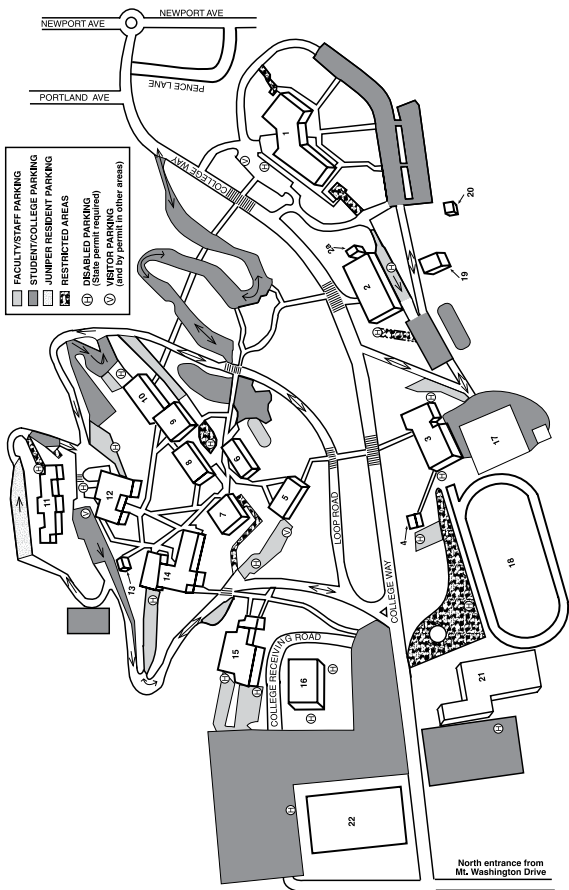

Organized intramural activities are available for all COCC students, faculty, staff and alumni. The emphasis is on having fun, making friends and staying fit. Some activities feature friendly competition while others are purely recreational. Activities include:

- Baseball
- Basketball (3 on 3 & 5 on 5)
- Bicycle Rides
- Bowling Nights
- Broomball
- Cycling
- Day Hikes
- Disc Golf Tournaments
- Indoor Soccer
- Special Running Events (Turkey Trot, Storm the Stairs, Jungle Run, Six-Mile Relay)
- Swimming
- Table Tennis Tourney
- Volleyball
