It is the policy of the Central Oregon Community College Board of Directors that there will be no discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, disability, gender, marital status, national origin, color, race, religion, sexual orientation or veteran status in any educational programs, activities or employment. Persons having questions about equal opportunity and nondiscrimination should contact the Equal Employment Officer, c/o COCC’s Human Resources office, (541) 383-7216.

Faculty, staff and students are protected from discrimination and harassment under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Persons who, because of a physical or learning disability, need special accommodation should contact ADA Coordinator Gene Zinkgraf, (541) 383-7776, in advance of their need for accommodation. Further inquiries may be directed to the Affirmative Action Officer, c/o COCC’s Human Resources office, (541) 383-7216.

Central Oregon Community College

Those wishing to attend events at COCC who have special needs resulting from a physical disability should contact Gene Zinkgraf, 504/ADA coordinator, at least three days in advance of the event. He can be reached at 383-7775, or through the College’s TT number, 383-7708.
Introduction

Central Oregon Community College, the oldest two-year college in Oregon, provides comprehensive college services to the residents of its 10,000-square-mile district.

COCO offers two-year associate degrees, transfer/lower division programs, career and technical education degrees and certificates, developmental courses, continuing education and community learning classes, industry-specific training programs, and business management assistance. Courses are delivered through the traditional classroom setting or online.

The College’s main campus is located on the western edge of Bend, a city known for its natural beauty and its proximity to diverse recreational opportunities. Situated on the western slope of Awbrey Butte, the location affords spectacular views of the mountains from nearly every point on the 201-acre campus. The Redmond Campus, a satellite located 20 miles north on 25 acres near the Redmond Municipal Airport, offers a variety of college courses and programs and is the home of the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. In addition, COCC offers some courses and programs in other Central Oregon communities.

A branch of Oregon State University is located on the Bend campus in the 38,000-square-foot Cascades Hall that opened in fall 2002. Oregon State University and University of Oregon collaborate to offer more than 370 upper division, on-site courses in 20 different undergraduate degree options.
Board Members

A seven-member board of directors governs the College, with members of that board elected from geographic zones in its 10,000-square-mile District.

Board Mission, Vision & Goals

Mission
Central Oregon Community College will be a leader in regionally and globally responsive adult, lifelong, postsecondary education for Central Oregon.

Vision Statement
Because of COCC, Central Oregonians will…
- be a districtwide community that holds and promotes lifelong postsecondary education and ongoing professional growth and personal development for adults as values;
- be able to connect actively with other communities, the state, the nation and the world in order to attain both locally strong and globally responsible perspectives;
- view education as integral to a sense of well-being, security and responsibility; and
- look to COCC to lead the region in the achievement of these ends.

Ends Statements/Goals
Because of COCC, the community will…
- have an adult population with the proficiencies and learning skills necessary for lifelong employment at or above a family-wage level;
- have an adult population with academic achievements and learning skills necessary to successfully pursue education at and beyond the community college level;
- work collaboratively to achieve shared purposes;
- have wide-ranging opportunities to enhance learning, wellness, quality of life, and cultural appreciation;
- support diversity; and interact effectively with state, regional, national and global communities.

Robert L. Barber, 1990-2004

James E. Middleton, 2004-present
Dr. James E. Middleton is in his fourth year as president of Central Oregon Community College.

Since coming to COCC, he has been working to forge new partnerships to strengthen the educational systems in the region, resulting in significant increases in the number of college courses available to high school students and the number of students taking advantage of these offerings.

He has also been actively involved in the COCC Foundation to broaden opportunity for students. The Foundation has increased its endowment to more than $10 million and has now embarked on a $3.5 million capital campaign to support the expansion of the College’s culinary program.

Middleton served as president of the College of Marin from 1993 to 2003. After leaving Marin, he was a visiting scholar at the Community College Leadership Development Initiatives at Claremont Graduate University in California. Prior to moving to Marin, he spent 11 years at Pennsylvania College of Technology in Williamsport, first as the director of Integrated Studies for two years and then the dean and vice president of academic affairs for nine years.
COCC History

1949  COCC opens with four part-time faculty members conducting classes for 109 students during the evenings in the basement of Bend High School.

1954  On the fifth anniversary, the students recommend changing the name to Central Oregon College.

1955  College Foundation is formed.

1957  Don Pence is appointed the College’s first president.

1962  Central Oregonians approve the 10,000-square-mile college district and later elect the first district board.

1962  The R.L. Coats family donates 140 acres on the west side of Awbrey Butte for the campus.

1964  Nearly 700 students and 35 full-time faculty members begin classes at the new campus.

1966  COCC is accredited and a new 16,000-square-foot library opens.

1967  After Dr. Pence resigns, Dr. Frederick Boyle is named president. The college becomes Central Oregon Community College.

1971  Ponderosa Hall, a vocational-technical center, and Mazama Gymnasium open.

1982  The Pinckney Center for the Arts, named for instructor and administrator, Orde Pinckney, is formally dedicated.

1984  The Small Business Development Center opens.

1990  The Central Oregon Consortium for Higher Education (COCHE) begins offering selected four-year degrees through Oregon colleges and universities on the COCC campus.

1990  After Dr. Boyle retires, Dr. Robert Barber is selected as the third president in the College’s history.

1994  The University Center opens, replacing COCHE.

1997  Redmond Campus opens.

1998  New 72,500-square-foot library opens. Original library converted to classrooms.

2001  The State Board of Higher Education selects Oregon State University to serve as the managing partner of the state’s first branch campus.

Manufacturing and Technology Center opens at the Redmond Campus.

OSU-Cascades Campus opens.

2002  Cascades Hall opens, housing offices and classrooms of OSU-Cascades Campus.

2003  Budget cuts totalling $3 million (resulting from a 15 percent reduction of the state’s community college budget) forced COCC to eliminate 35 positions, cut back programs and offerings, close college centers and raise tuition 25 percent over two years.

2004  Dr. James Middleton becomes the fourth president in the College’s history.

Facilities

The 201-acre main campus in Bend includes 21 buildings, incorporating 414,000 square feet. The 25-acre Redmond Campus encompasses three buildings, incorporating 51,500 square feet, including the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. A campus center is expected to be under construction in 2008.

Computer Labs are available to students and district residents.
- 40-station lab in the Library (open to the community)
- 31-station lab in Pioneer Hall
- 20-station lab in Cascade Hall
- Computer/Study Rooms are also available in Redmond, Madras, La Pine and Prineville

Student Housing

Juniper Hall, COCC’s on-campus residence hall, houses 103 students. It is operated by the nonprofit housing management firm, College Housing Northwest. The 2007-08 room and board package for double occupancy is $7,084.

During the summer, Juniper Hall is rented to groups and conferences. Call 383-7593 for more information.
Programs of Study

COCC offers certificates of completion and five associate degrees: Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, Associate of Science – Direct Transfer to Oregon State University and Associate of General Studies.

Certificates of completion, which require one to four quarters to complete, prepare students for immediate employment or advancement in various fields. Certificate programs include

- Addictions Studies
- Automotive
- Computer and Information Systems
- Culinary
- Dental Assisting
- Dietary Managers
- Drafting
- Forestry
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Juvenile Corrections
- Manufacturing
- Massage Therapy
- Medical Assisting
- Medical Transcription
- Nursing
- Office Assistant
- Retail Management
- Wildland Fire

The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree trains students in applied career technical skills that prepare the graduate for immediate employment in the field. AAS degree programs include

- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Management
- Aviation
- Business Administration (includes emphasis in five different areas)
- Computer Information Systems (includes emphasis in three different areas)
• Criminal Justice
• Culinary
• Early Childhood Education
• Emergency Medical Services
• Forestry
• Geographic Information Systems
• Health Information Technology
• Manufacturing Technology
• Massage Therapy
• Nursing
• Structural Fire Science
• Wildland Fire

Associate of Arts (AA) degree programs fit the needs of most students who intend to transfer. The AA degree meets AAOT (Associate of Arts, Oregon Transfer) lower-division general education requirements for all public Oregon universities and some private colleges. AA programs cover subject areas from anthropology to speech, and pre-majors such as pre-medicine, pre-dentistry and pre-veterinary.

The Associate of Science (AS) degree is individualized for transfer to a designated Oregon public university for a specified major, such as business, science, engineering or technology.

Associate of Science – Direct Transfer to Oregon State University – Cascades Campus (AS-DT) degree is designed for students who plan to transfer and receive a degree from Oregon State University – Cascades Campus.

The Associate of General Studies (AGS) degree provides an alternative to pursue a broad, general education and accomplish personal educational goals. It is not transferable as a whole, and does not meet certification requirements for any career and technical area.
High School Options

Central Oregon high school students can earn college credit by participating in any of these COCC programs:

Concurrent Enrollment
Take up to 11 credits through the concurrent enrollment program. Register for classes on the Bend or Redmond campus. In some cases, area high schools have contracted to have COCC transfer courses taught to their students. To register for classes on the COCC campus, follow the “Getting Started” steps; contact your high school counselor about registering for courses taught in your high school.

College Now/Transfer and College Now/Tech Prep
Some Central Oregon high schools offer college-level general education as well as career and technical education classes in the high schools, taught by high school instructors exclusively for high school students. Tuition rates are $15/credit for transfer courses and $10/class for career and technical education courses. Contact your high school counselor for information on course options in your high school.

Expanded Options
High school students have the opportunity to take credit classes at COCC with no charge to them for tuition, fees, supplies and books (transportation to and from COCC not included). Students must sign up no later than March 1 to take advantage of this option for the following school year. Check with high school counselor or ASPIRE coordinator for more information on eligibility requirements.

Middle School Students

Middle school students may take classes at COCC. However, students must meet with the Director of Admissions/Registrar and meet various admission requirements. Contact the COCC Admissions & Records Office for details.

Student Services

CAP Center
The CAP Center provides services to any enrolled COCC student to help them make the most of their time at COCC, and to prepare graduates for family-wage employment.
Info: 383-7200

Academic advising
New, degree-seeking students are assigned an academic adviser during their first term at COCC and meet regularly with their adviser to work on their educational plan, degree requirements, schedule planning, problem solving as well as graduation, transfer and career preparation.

Personal counseling
Counseling assists students who are faced with personal issues that may impact their college performance. Services are provided by professional, licensed counselors in a confidential setting at no cost to enrolled students.

Career/Job Placement services
The CAP Center offers free career-planning workshops; a credit course in career planning; Web-based, self-directed career exploration tools; and electronic career placement and temporary jobs bulletin board

Tutoring and Testing Center
Tutoring services are free to COCC students for the COCC courses in which they are currently enrolled. Tutoring is offered on both an individual and a group basis. There are also tutor-led study groups for some key courses.
Info: 383-7539
The Testing Center’s services are available to students and community members needing academic, professional and standardized testing. For a current list of tests offered, visit http://tutortest.cocc.edu or call 383-7538.

Disability Services

The Disability Services office ensures equal access to COCC campuses and Community Learning Centers for students with qualifying, documented disabilities, as defined by federal legislation. To arrange for specific accommodations, call 383-7583 or visit the office in the Boyle Education Center.

Multicultural Center

The Center, located in Room 108 in Grandview Hall, is open to the public, staffed daily, and offers activities and information to foster cross-cultural understanding and communication. Info: 318-3787 or 383-7412

Native American Program

This program provides Native Americans with individualized help to achieve their educational goals. It is also involved in a variety of campus and community cultural events during the year. Info: 318-3787 or nativeamerican.cocc.edu

Associated Students of COCC (Student Government)
ASCOCC provides students with numerous opportunities for governance, advocacy and social programming. There are six paid positions each year. Info: 383-7595 or ascocc.cocc.edu.

The Broadside Student Newspaper
The Broadside, a student-generated newspaper, offers students opportunities in reporting, writing, editing, design, layout and photojournalism, and leadership through paid positions. 383-7252 or broadsidemail@cocc.edu

Club Sports/Intramural and Recreation Programs
These programs offer opportunities for competition, skill development, leadership and recreation. Clubs are organized by students with guidance from coaches, faculty and staff. Intramural activities feature friendly competition or are solely recreational. Info: 383-7794 or http://sports.cocc.edu

Transportation
A free campus shuttle service circles the campus four times per hour. Maps are available at the Information Office. Also, the City of Bend’s local bus service, Bend Area Transit (BAT), includes two bus stops at COCC: the Barber Library and Boyle Education Center. Info: www.bendareatransit.com
Articulation Agreements

As students move between various institutions, COCC has recognized the need to provide smoother transfer options for advanced degrees. As a result, the College is developing transfer agreements with several universities for specific majors and degrees.

Continuing Education

Community, Business and Professional Education

Central Oregon Community College’s Continuing Education division provides skill-specific, noncredit programs and services throughout the District. With a composite of services, COCC is able to efficiently offer expanded opportunities for noncredit instruction appropriate to businesses, professionals and individuals.

Business Development Center

COCC’s Business Development Center (BDC) supports business vitality through one-on-one business counseling, a yearlong Small Business Management program and practical, hands-on workshops. The BDC continues to exceed goals in providing these business support services throughout the College District. Last year, the BDC assisted 420 people with more than 1,300 hours of counseling. For information, call 383-7290.

Business and Employee Development

Central Oregon Community College creates, coordinates and delivers quality employee development programs to public and private sector businesses. Our training is high quality, cost effective and results oriented. And, best of all, it’s customized to meet your specific business needs.

Community Learning

Special interest classes for adults including Arts and Crafts, Fitness and Health, Home and Garden, Computer Skills and much more!
Adult Basic Education/College Preparation

Through the Adult Basic Education/College Preparation program, instruction in GED preparation, high school completion and basic skills such as reading, writing, math and spelling is available in Bend, Redmond, Prineville, Madras, Warm Springs and La Pine. English Language Learning (ELL) is offered at many sites as well as preparation for the United States citizenship exam. Through the ABE/CP program, 54 students obtained their GED, 13 students earned their high school diplomas and 696 students attended English Language Learning classes last year. A total of 763 students were served. The ABE/CP district office is located at the Redmond Campus. For information, call 504-2950.

For information about Continuing Education at COCC, call 383-7270 or access the Web site at www.cocc.edu.
A full range of adult educational opportunities is available at the COCC Redmond Campus, across from the Redmond Airport:

- credit classes designed to provide general education requirements leading to an Associate of Arts transfer degree
- classes leading to an Associate of Applied Science in business administration
- academic advising, placement testing and financial aid advising
- GED, basic skills and English Language Learning classes
- family literacy program for parents and young children
- employment and computer skills
- business and professional training
- hands-on training in specialized degrees
- opportunities for high school students to earn college credit
- a variety of noncredit self-enrichment classes
COCC’s Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center (MATC) is a multi-industry training facility where students can learn technical skills at their own pace and on their own schedule with the help of the skilled and experienced staff. The MATC specializes in short-term customized training and skill development for individuals and businesses.

For more information about programs and services at COCC’s Redmond Campus, call 504-2900 or drop by Building #3, the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center.
