Introduction

Central Oregon Community College, the oldest two-year college in Oregon, provides comprehensive college services to the residents of its 10,000-square-mile district.

COC offers two-year associate degrees, transfer/lower division programs, career and technical education degrees and certificates, developmental courses, continuing education and community learning classes, industry-specific training programs and business management assistance.

Located in the geographic center of Oregon, the College’s main campus is located in Bend, a city known for its natural beauty and its proximity to diverse recreational opportunities. The 201-acre campus offers spectacular views. Among the 26 buildings on the campus is the 80,000 square-foot residence hall, which opened in Fall 2015. This facility provides a modern, state-of-the-art living opportunity for students from Central Oregon, elsewhere in the state or those from throughout the country.

The Redmond Campus, located 20 miles north on 25 acres near the Redmond Municipal Airport, offers all of the courses necessary to earn an associate degree. The Technology Education Center, opened in 2014, houses general classrooms and computer labs, specialized labs for technology programs and space for the College’s Small Business Development Center and entrepreneurial incubation offerings. COCC also has campuses in Madras and Prineville where students have access to a variety of credit and non-credit courses and student services.
Board Members

A seven-member board of directors governs the College, with members of that board elected from geographic zones in its 10,000-square-mile district.

Mission and Vision

Our Mission
Central Oregon Community College promotes student success and community enrichment by providing quality, accessible, lifelong educational opportunities.

Our Vision Statement
To achieve student success and community enrichment, COCC fosters student completion of academic goals, prepares students for employment, assists regional employers and promotes equitable achievement for the diverse students and communities we serve.
Themes

Institutional Sustainability
Students will have the opportunity to be successful because the College has planned and invested appropriately to ensure sustainability of high quality programs, services and facilities that support student learning and educational achievement.

Transfer and Articulation
Students will have the academic achievement and skills necessary to transfer and articulate successfully to institutions of higher learning beyond the community college level.

Workforce Development
Students of Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs will be prepared for employment and advanced education through the acquisition of knowledge and skills necessary to meet current industry needs.

Basic Skills
Students will have academic achievements and basic learning skills necessary to participate effectively as engaged community and family members, and employees, and to succeed at the college level.

Lifelong Learning
Participants in lifelong learning will have access to learning opportunities in the areas of Enrichment, Professional Development, Technology and Wellness.
COCC Presidents

(Director, 1952–1957)

Dr. Frederick H. Boyle, 1967–1990

Dr. Robert L. Barber, 1990–2004

Dr. James E. Middleton, 2004–2014

Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf, 2014–Current

L to R, Robert L. Barber, Shirley I. Metcalf, Frederick H. Boyle, James E. Middleton
Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf is the fifth president in Central Oregon Community College’s nearly 70-year history.

Dr. Metcalf has been at COCC since 2011 serving in several capacities including dean of extended learning, interim vice president for instruction and interim president. She was hired into the permanent role of president in March 2015.

Prior to coming to COCC, she held the positions of executive vice president for instruction and vice president for advancement at Lake Washington Technical College. At Hawaii Community College she served as dean of instruction (chief academic officer) and dean of outreach. Metcalf attained the rank of full professor in business and held a tenured position with the University of Hawaii System for 26 years.

Dr. Metcalf earned her bachelor’s and master’s degrees from the University of Hawaii and her doctorate in education from Northern Illinois University.

In 2014, Dr. Metcalf was named one of the University of Hawaii Community College’s “50 Finest” for her contributions to community college education in Hawaii.
COCC History

1949 COCC opens with four part-time faculty members conducting classes for 109 students during the evenings in the basement of Bend High School.

1954 On the fifth anniversary, the students recommend changing the name to Central Oregon College.

1955 College Foundation is formed.

1957 Don Pence is appointed the College’s first president.

1962 Central Oregonians approve the 10,000-square-mile College District and later elect the first District board.

R.L. and Joyce Coats donate 140 acres on the west side of Awbrey Butte for the new campus.

1964 Nearly 700 students and 35 full-time faculty members begin classes at the new campus.

1966 COCC is accredited and a new 16,000-square-foot library opens.

1967 After Dr. Pence resigns, Dr. Frederick Boyle is named president. The college becomes Central Oregon Community College.

1971 Ponderosa Hall, a vocational-technical center, and Mazama Gymnasium open.

1982 The Pinckney Center for the Arts, named for instructor and administrator, Orde Pinckney, is formally dedicated.

1984 The Small Business Development Center opens.

1990 The Central Oregon Consortium for Higher Education (COCHE) begins offering selected four-year degrees through Oregon colleges and universities on the COCC campus.
Dr. Robert Barber is selected as the third president in the College’s history.

1997 Redmond Campus opens.

1998 New 72,500-square-foot library opens. Original library converted to classrooms.

2001 The State Board of Higher Education selects Oregon State University to open the state’s first branch campus: OSU-Cascades.

Manufacturing and Technology Center opens at the Redmond Campus.

2004 Dr. James Middleton becomes the fourth president in the College’s history.

2009 The Campus Center, including performance venue Wille Hall, opens in April.

COC moves to voter approval for a $41.58 million bond measure to build five new facilities, ensuring eligibility for an additional $11.47 million in state funding.

2011 Building construction is completed for campuses in Prineville and Madras as well as the Jungers Culinary Center.

2012 COCC opens new state-of-the-art Health Careers and Science Centers on the Bend campus.

2014 Dr. Middleton retires and Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf is named interim president.

The Redmond Technology Education Center opens on the Redmond campus.

2015 Dr. Metcalf is named president on a permanent basis.

The 330-bed Residence Hall opens.

Facilities

The 201-acre main campus in Bend includes 26 buildings, incorporating 671,330 square feet. Most of the land that makes up the Bend campus was donated to the College in the early 1960s, primarily from Robert L. and Joyce Coats. The five original buildings which opened with the campus in 1964 were Des Chutes, Jefferson, Modoc, Ochoco and Grandview Halls – all on what is now known as the “upper campus.” Four more buildings in the same area were added within the next three years. The first buildings constructed along College Way, Mazama Gymnasium and Ponderosa, opened in 1971.

The Redmond Campus (see page 20), opened in 1997 and now has four buildings, including the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center and the Redmond Technology Education Center. Buildings in Madras and Prineville opened in 2011.

Most College facilities are available for rent: cocc.edu/campus-services/event-space.

New Building Construction

In the last 10 years, COCC has added the following facilities on the Bend Campus: Coats Campus Center, Jungers Culinary Center, Health Careers Center and Science Center. COCC’s Residence Hall opened in Fall 2015. (See Student Housing section on page 19)

Buildings in Madras and Prineville were completed in Fall 2011, providing residents access to services and classes.
Facilities, continued

The Redmond Technology Education Center opened on the COCC Redmond Campus in Fall 2014.

Computer Labs

Computer Labs are available to students and District residents.

- 14 PC station lab and one MAC station in the Boyle Education Center
- 28 PC station lab and one MAC lab in Pioneer Hall (student use only)
- 8 PC station lab at the Redmond Campus, Building 3
- 30 PC station drop-in lab at the Redmond Technology Education Center
- 28 PC station drop-in lab/classroom at the Madras campus
- 28 PC station drop-in lab/computer classroom at the Prineville campus

Student Housing
COC’s new Residence Hall opened in Fall 2015 and can house up to 320 COCC students. On-campus housing is operated and managed through COCC’s Housing and Residence Life Office. Rates vary; the 2016–17 room and board package for double occupancy with standard meal plan is $10,215.

During the summer, the Residence Hall is available for groups and conferences. Call 541.383.7545 for more information.

Barber Library
The 72,500-square-foot Robert L. Barber Library is named for a former COCC president (1990–2004). It features wireless Internet access, public-access workstations and two computer classrooms. Students may check out laptops, ipads, digital cameras and other technology. There are other student services available in the library such as academic advising, career advising and placement testing along with testing/tutoring. Info: 541.383.7560 or cocc.edu/library

Barber Library features:

• Hundreds of thousands of full text research articles from scholarly electronic resources and databases—accessible via remote login 24/7 to all enrolled students.

• Access to more than 27 million items including e-books via the Orbis Cascades Alliance, a consortium of 39 Northwest academic libraries.

• Electronic document delivery available for items not held at COCC or Alliance.

• DVD and streaming video collections.

• Group study rooms.

• In-house gallery featuring local and juried art exhibits.

• Credit library courses and research support.

• Chat reference and research services.

Redmond Campus

A full range of educational opportunities are available at the COCC Redmond Campus, located west of the Redmond Airport:

• Credit classes leading to the AAOT transfer degree

• Manufacturing (welding, machining, quality control) degrees and certificates

• Veterinary Technician degree

• Hybrid Automotive for industry professionals

• Foundational courses leading to health and science degrees

• Academic advising, placement testing and financial aid assistance

• Multicultural clubs and activities
Redmond Campus, continued

- Small business advising
- GED, basic skills and English language learning
- Self-enrichment and brewing classes

COCC’s Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center (MATC)

The MATC offers multi-industry and apprenticeship training. Students learn technical skills in both classroom and self-paced environments. Faculty with extensive experience in welding, machining, and quality control work one-on-one with students in the program. The Center specializes in skill development for individuals seeking employment in manufacturing.

The Redmond Technology Education Center

The 34,000 square feet, two-story Center opened Fall 2014. RTEC houses the Veterinary Technician and Hybrid Automotive programs. The Small Business Development Center (SBDC) also serves Redmond businesses from this location. RTEC has nine classrooms, three computer labs, four skill labs and several conference rooms. A 104-person meeting room is also available for community and event rental.

For information about the Redmond Campus, call 541.504.2900.
Madras Campus

The Madras Campus is a 10,000-square-foot facility that includes classrooms, a computer lab, a large community room and offices for faculty and administration. The campus is built on land donated to COCC by the Bean Foundation. Funding for the facility came primarily from the successful 2009 COCC bond measure, with additional money coming from Jefferson County and a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) grant. COCC offers a variety of credit and noncredit classes and comprehensive student services that include:

- Credit classes leading to an AAOT degree
- Foundational credit classes for most degrees and certificates
- Academic advising, placement testing, proctored exams, tutoring and financial aid information
- Small business advising
- Customized business training
- GED, basic skills and English language learning
- Dual credit — earn high school and college credits
- Self-enrichment classes

Prineville Campus

The COCC Crook County Open Campus in Prineville was built as a collaborative partnership between Crook County, COCC and OSU Open Campus-Crook County. This 12,000-square-foot facility includes seven flexible meeting rooms.
Prineville Campus, continued

and classrooms and offers 72 computer stations with high-speed Internet access in the building and mobile computer lab. The campus was funded by a grant awarded to Crook County by the U.S. Department of Commerce Broadband Technology Opportunity Program, proceeds from the voter-approved 2009 COCC bond measure and support from local contributions and other nonprofit organizations. The campus sits on land donated by Crook County. COCC offers the AAOT degree, credit classes, GED preparation classes, small business advising, workforce training and community learning opportunities at the Prineville campus.

Adult Basic Skills

Through Adult Basic Skills, students can study to improve skills that will lead them to college credit programs, the GED Exam and work. Basic reading, writing and math classes are offered in Bend, Redmond, Prineville, Madras, Warm Springs and Deer Ridge Correctional Institute. English Language Learning (ELL) classes are offered in Bend, Redmond and Madras. Through the ABS programs last year, a total of 670 students were served.

The ABS office is located at the Bend Campus. For information, call 541.504.2950.
Programs of Study

COCC offers certificates of completion and four associate degrees: Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science and Associate of General Studies.

Certificates of completion, which require one to four quarters to complete, prepare students for immediate employment or advancement in various fields. Certificate programs include:

- Accounting
- Addictions Studies & Human Services
- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Technology
- Baking & Pastry Arts
- Computer & Information Systems
- Computer Aided Drafting (CAD)
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary Arts
- Dental Assisting
- Drafting
- Early Childhood Education
- Entrepreneurship & Entrepreneurial Mgmt.
- Forest Resources Technology
- Geographic Information Systems
- Ground Transportation Logistics
- Health Information Technology
- Juvenile Corrections
- Manufacturing Technology
- Marketing Communications
- Massage Therapy
- Medical Assistant
- Nursing
- Office Assistant
- Pharmacy Technician
The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree trains students in applied career technical skills that prepare the graduate for immediate employment in the field. AAS degree programs include:

- Addictions Studies & Human Services
- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Management
- Aviation
- Baking & Pastry Arts
- Business Administration
- Computer Information Systems
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary Arts
- Early Childhood Education
- Forestry Resources Technology
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Hospitality Management
- Manufacturing Technology
- Massage Therapy
- Nursing
- Paramedicine
- Structural Fire Science
- Veterinary Technician
- Wildland Fire

The Associate of Arts Oregon Transfer (AAOT) degree fits the needs of most students who intend to transfer. The AAOT degree meets lower-division general education requirements for all public Oregon universities and some private colleges. The AAOT covers subject areas from anthropology to speech, and pre-majors such as pre-medicine, pre-dentistry and pre-veterinary.

The Associate of Science (AS) degree is individualized for transfer to a designated four-year college or university for a specified major, such as business, science, engineering or technology.

The Associate of General Studies (AGS) degree provides an alternative to pursue a broad, general education and accomplish personal educational goals. It is not transferable as a whole, and does not meet certification requirements for any career and technical area.
“Becoming a veterinary technician has always intrigued me as I have a love for both animals and science.”

“The best part of the vet tech program at COCC was taking the knowledge I learned in the program and being able to apply it in practice at our externships. I was able to go to a small animal practice and use skills that I had learned about in class. I was fortunate to also be able to do a six-week externship at The Marine Mammal Center in Sausalito, California. This center rescues, rehabilitates and releases injured seals and sea lions.

“The program works hard to give those that are motivated and that have a love for veterinary medicine, a chance to take the Veterinary Technician National Board Exam. It is a full time, very intensive program.”

“C OCC was the natural choice to complete my general engineering courses. COCC allowed me to stay in Bend for my first two years in order to be close to my family as well as save a significant amount of money.

“My experience was exceptional for numerous reasons. All my professors in science, engineering and mathematics were fantastic. The small class sizes enabled me to have lots of one-on-one time with my professors, while still educating me with the same material I would have covered in a university setting. I will feel forever grateful to these professors for all the time, patience and exceptional teaching they provided me.”
High School Options

Central Oregon high school students can earn college credit by participating in any of these COCC programs:

Concurrent Enrollment
To register for classes on the COCC campus, follow the “Getting Started” steps at cocc.edu/future-students.

Dual Credit/College Now
Some Central Oregon high schools offer college-level general education as well as career and technical education classes in the high schools, taught by high school instructors exclusively for high school students. Tuition rates are $15/credit. Contact your high school counselor for information.

Expanded Options
High school juniors and seniors have the opportunity to take credit classes at COCC with no charge to them for tuition, fees, supplies and books (transportation to and from COCC not included). Check with your high school counselor or ASPIRE coordinator for more information on eligibility requirements.

Post Graduate Scholar Program
Available at some Central Oregon high schools, this program allows students who have completed their school’s graduation requirements for a standard diploma to take college classes at a COCC campus. Full tuition, fees and books are paid by the high school. The process for purchasing books varies by school district. Contact your high school counselor to determine eligibility and to find out complete program details.

Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD)
C OCC strives to make available, to all students, the opportunity for an excellent and rewarding education. The Services for Students with Disabilities office endeavors to ensure equal access to all students with qualifying, documented disabilities at all COCC campuses. Awareness of students’ needs and goals, and fostering an inclusive environment helps create an atmosphere in which learning and growth can occur. We also encourage referral of students by staff and faculty to the SSD office for consultation and determination of eligibility for accommodations. Please contact the SSD Office in Boyle Education Center at 541.383.7583 or cocc.edu/disability-services

Transportation
Free campus shuttle service circles the Bend campus three times per hour. Maps and shuttle schedules are available at the Information Office or online at cocc.edu/Campus-Services/Campus-Shuttle. Cascades East Transit (CET) includes two bus stops at COCC: the Barber Library and Boyle Education Center. Info: cascadeseasttransit.com
Articulation Agreements

As students move among various institutions, COCC has recognized the need to provide smoother transfer options for advanced degrees. As a result, the College has transfer agreements with several universities.

Continuing Education

Community, Business and Professional Education

Central Oregon Community College’s Continuing Education division provides skill-specific noncredit programs and services throughout the District. With a composite of services, COCC is able to efficiently offer expanded opportunities for noncredit instruction appropriate to businesses, professionals and individuals.

Small Business Development Center

C OCC’s Small Business Development Center (SBDC) supports business vitality through no-cost, one-on-one, confidential business counseling, a yearlong Small Business Management program and practical, hands-on workshops. The SBDC continues to exceed goals in providing these business support services throughout the College District. Small Business Development Center services are available to anyone who owns or operates – or is considering starting – a small business. The businesses comprise a complete spectrum of business stages, from start-up to mature companies. For information, call 541.383.7290.

Professional Development and Customized Training

Central Oregon Community College offers an array of certification preparation courses for personal development and career advancement in a multitude of professions including healthcare, construction, agriculture and many more. Job skill development and enhancement is a focus of professional development programs in Continuing Education. COCC also creates, coordinates and delivers quality, customized employee training to public and private sector businesses. The training is high quality, cost effective and results oriented. COCC works with businesses on computer skills, supervisory and leadership training, Spanish in the workplace and trainings designed to fit specific industry needs.

Community Learning

Explore the possibilities with hundreds of noncredit classes. Lifelong learning is based on the belief that people are learners at every age and are entitled to pursue educational opportunities meaningful to them.

COCC offers a multitude of noncredit classes through Community Learning. Students may develop skills and new interests through enrichment classes such as photography and cooking; get into shape with yoga and other wellness classes, or brush up on business computer skills, explore retirement options and more. Community Learning offers youth camps for ages 10-14 in the summer.

For more information about Continuing Education, call 541.383.7270 or visit online, cocc.edu/continuinged.

COCC Foundation

The COCC Foundation is a separate, nonprofit organization founded in 1955 to assist the College, its students and faculty through the development of private resources.

The Foundation provides this assistance by managing a variety of funding vehicles:

• Endowed scholarship funds
• Planned giving through the Heritage Society
• Annual funds through private and public partnerships

In 2016–17, the Central Oregon Community College Foundation awarded more than $1.5 million in scholarships and program funds. A full scholarship in 2016-17 was $3,600. Out of the 420 qualified, first time Foundation scholarship applicants, 240 students were awarded scholarships. In addition, 125 students received renewal scholarships.
