ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE IN NURSING FALL 2019 APPLICATION INFORMATION AND STATISTICS

2019 Application Deadline

Students must complete all application requirements no later than 5:00 pm on the Monday following spring term finals: June 17, 2019. Only completed and submitted applications received by the deadline will be considered for selection. Applications will be available online at the beginning of spring term 2019. Students are encouraged to apply early.

Student Responsibility

Students are solely responsible for ensuring that they meet all application prerequisites before the application deadline. Students should attend a nursing program information session and review their GradTracks information to confirm progression towards application requirements.

- This includes ensuring COCC has received official transcripts from all institutions attended
- For courses in progress spring term, the process outlined in the handbook must be followed and completed

Students are encouraged to work closely with their advisor to ensure degree requirements are part of their academic plan.

Competitive Admission

Admission to COCC's Nursing program is competitive and enrollment is limited. In 2017, 147 students applied for 44 positions. In 2018, 168 students applied for 45 positions. The number of students admitted to the nursing program is determined annually.

The tables below give information on students admitted to the 2017 and 2018 Nursing programs. Students should use this information as a guideline for evaluating their chances of gaining admission into COCC's program. Please note that 2018 is the last year the short answer essay questions will be used; they are being replaced by the Health Science Reasoning Test – Associate's Degree (see handbook for more information).
