

Cloverdale Rural Fire Protection District

About the Fire District

In the heart of Central Oregon, within the tri-cities of Bend, Redmond and Sisters, the Cloverdale Rural Fire Protection District covers approximately 50 square miles of rural farm, ranch and housing developments, with approximately 1500 single family dwellings dotting the landscape while serving a population of approximately 3500 full time residents. The Cloverdale Rural Fire Protection District is a combination staff department with most staff being volunteers.

Resident Student Process

Cloverdale Rural Fire Protection District chooses resident students through the Joint Recruitment process. The process is administered by Central Oregon Community College on behalf of the Central Oregon fire agencies. Resident students selected by Cloverdale Rural Fire Protection District will participate in a recruit academy that teaches basic components to structure and wildland firefighting as well as emergency vehicle driving. The recruit academy begins in June and ends in August.

Scholarship Details

Resident students will receive a $1,500 scholarship per academic term for tuition and book fees at Central Oregon Community College in Bend or Redmond. Resident students are required to be enrolled in either the structure fire or paramedic program and take a minimum of 10 credit hours per academic term. Completion of the program takes an average of three years depending on prior college credit earned. Resident students will receive a $500 monthly reimbursement for meals and fuel. The district will provide a district vehicle for transportation back and forth to school during the days the resident student is on duty and all required uniforms.

Housing

Resident students are expected to live in district provided housing starting at the beginning of the recruit academy. The district provides resident students with private dorm rooms with personal storage and common living quarters. Facilities include a kitchen, dining area, day room with TV, bathrooms, gym facilities and training room.

Resident students will

- Respond to emergency 9-1-1 calls
- Work a 48 hour on / 96 hour off shift
- Resident students will be excused from shift requirements to attend class.
 - Drive and operate emergency apparatus, including:
 - Wildland Apparatus
 - Structure Apparatus
 - Support Apparatus
 - Water Tenders
- Receive training and certification in structural and wildland firefighting.
 - Certification is provided through Oregon DPSST
