AAS Business Administration
Accounting Specialization Outcomes

After successfully completing degree, students will be able to:
1. Demonstrate an understanding of accounting terminology.
2. Perform basic accounting functions, such as complete steps in the accounting cycle, prepare financial statements, and document transactions.
3. Use accounting software to record and summarize business transactions.
4. Analyze individual components of financial statements.
5. Make informed decisions about the operating performance, financial position, and cash flow activities of a company using relevant accounting information.
6. Use managerial accounting tools to provide management with data useful in managing the company’s planning, controlling, and evaluating activities.
7. Explain ethical issues impacting accountants.

And general educational outcomes of:
1) Students will engage in informed discussion of the meaning and value of aesthetic expression;
2) Students will speak, read, write, and listen effectively;
3) Students will analyze, interpret, and synthesize ideas and information;
4) Students will explain how cultural context shapes human perceptions and values;
5) Students will identify responsible health and safety procedures;
6) Students will apply appropriate mathematics to analyze and solve problems;
7) Students will apply scientific inquiry to arrive at informed conclusions;
8) Students will use computer technology to gather, process, and communicate information;
9) Students will evaluate the ethical dimensions of arguments and the consequences of decisions.